Practice Resources

SAT® Practice — Five Ways, All Free

The best way to get ready for the SAT® is to work hard in school. That's because the skills and knowledge the SAT measures are the same ones you're learning in class. But practice can also make a difference. Here are some free resources.

1 Get on Khan Academy®

Go to Official SAT Practice at Khan Academy® for free practice materials and a practice plan. You'll find full practice tests, practice questions, video lessons, and study and test-taking tips — and you can get personalized recommendations for practice based on your results on the SAT, PSAT/NMSQT®, PSAT™ 10, or PSAT™ 8/9. satpractice.org

2 Get on Your Phone

Get our Daily Practice for the New SAT app and get an SAT question to answer every day. You can ask for a hint if you're stuck, check your answer instantly, and see the answer explanation. sat.org/scoring

3 Try Practice Questions Online

Dip into sample questions online to see what SAT Math, Reading, or Writing and Language questions or the SAT Essay prompts are like. You can check your answers instantly and see answer explanations. sat.org/sample-questions

4 Take a Practice Test on Paper

Make a trial run of test day by taking a full-length paper-and-pencil practice test. You'll need a No. 2 pencil, an approved calculator, and a timer. Use the full practice test and answer grid in The SAT Student Guide from your counselor, or print the answer sheet and a practice test from sat.org/practice. Score your test afterward by using the Scan and Score app or the printable scoring guide. sat.org/scoring

5 Start a Study Group

Studying with others can help you set goals, create a plan, and stick to it. Go to our website to get the why, how, where, who, and when on setting up your own SAT study group. sat.org/studygroup
